B. Objectives

A central feature of the programme was the interactive session between the alumni and the present students. Alumni from the 2024 and 2025 graduating batches shared their experiences, perspectives and visions for the future. Their reflections offered valuable insights into academic and professional life beyond college, while their words of encouragement inspired the junior students to pursue their aspirations with confidence and determination. The session also strengthened the sense of continuity and belonging within the departmental community. The min objective of this Alumni meet is to foster bonding between the passed-out students and the present students. The present students became enriched with valuable experiences shared by the alumni of the Department.

3. EVENT REPORT

The event started with the welcome address by the Head of the Department, followed by the felicitation of Dr. Rakibul Sk. with flowers by the Semester I student, Department of Microbiology. The event was inaugurated with the speech of Dr. Rakibul Sk., TCS, P. R. Thakur Govt. College. He delivered an illuminating talk on the occasion. He emphasised to the students to serve society by remembering the principle of symbiosis. The programme was graced by Dr. Swapan Sarkar, Officer-in-Charge of P.R. Thakur Government College. He also gave assurance for the development of the Department.

The occasion was further enlivened by a vibrant cultural programme presented by the students of Semesters I, II, V and VII. The students displayed their creativity and enthusiasm through melodious songs, graceful dance performances and recitations. Their spirited participation created an atmosphere of joy and celebration and was warmly appreciated by the faculty members, alumni and fellow students. The students of 2024 and 2025 CBCS batches introduced themselves in front of the present students. They also performed some songs and recitations.

Adding a personal and affectionate touch to the gathering, participants shared snacks, gifts, and greeting cards. These thoughtful gestures enhanced the spirit of camaraderie and made the occasion particularly memorable.

For the junior students, the Alumni Meet proved to be an inspiring and enriching experience. The opportunity to meet their seniors, listen to their experiences and learn from their journeys helped them gain a broader perspective about their own academic and professional aspirations. The interaction also demonstrated the enduring value of maintaining strong connections between alumni and the department.

4. ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Department of Microbiology acknowledge the Officer-in-Charge, Dr. Swapan Sarkar, for permitting the department to hold this event successfully. Without his cooperation, this programme would not have been possible.

5. CONCLUSION & RECOMMENDATIONS

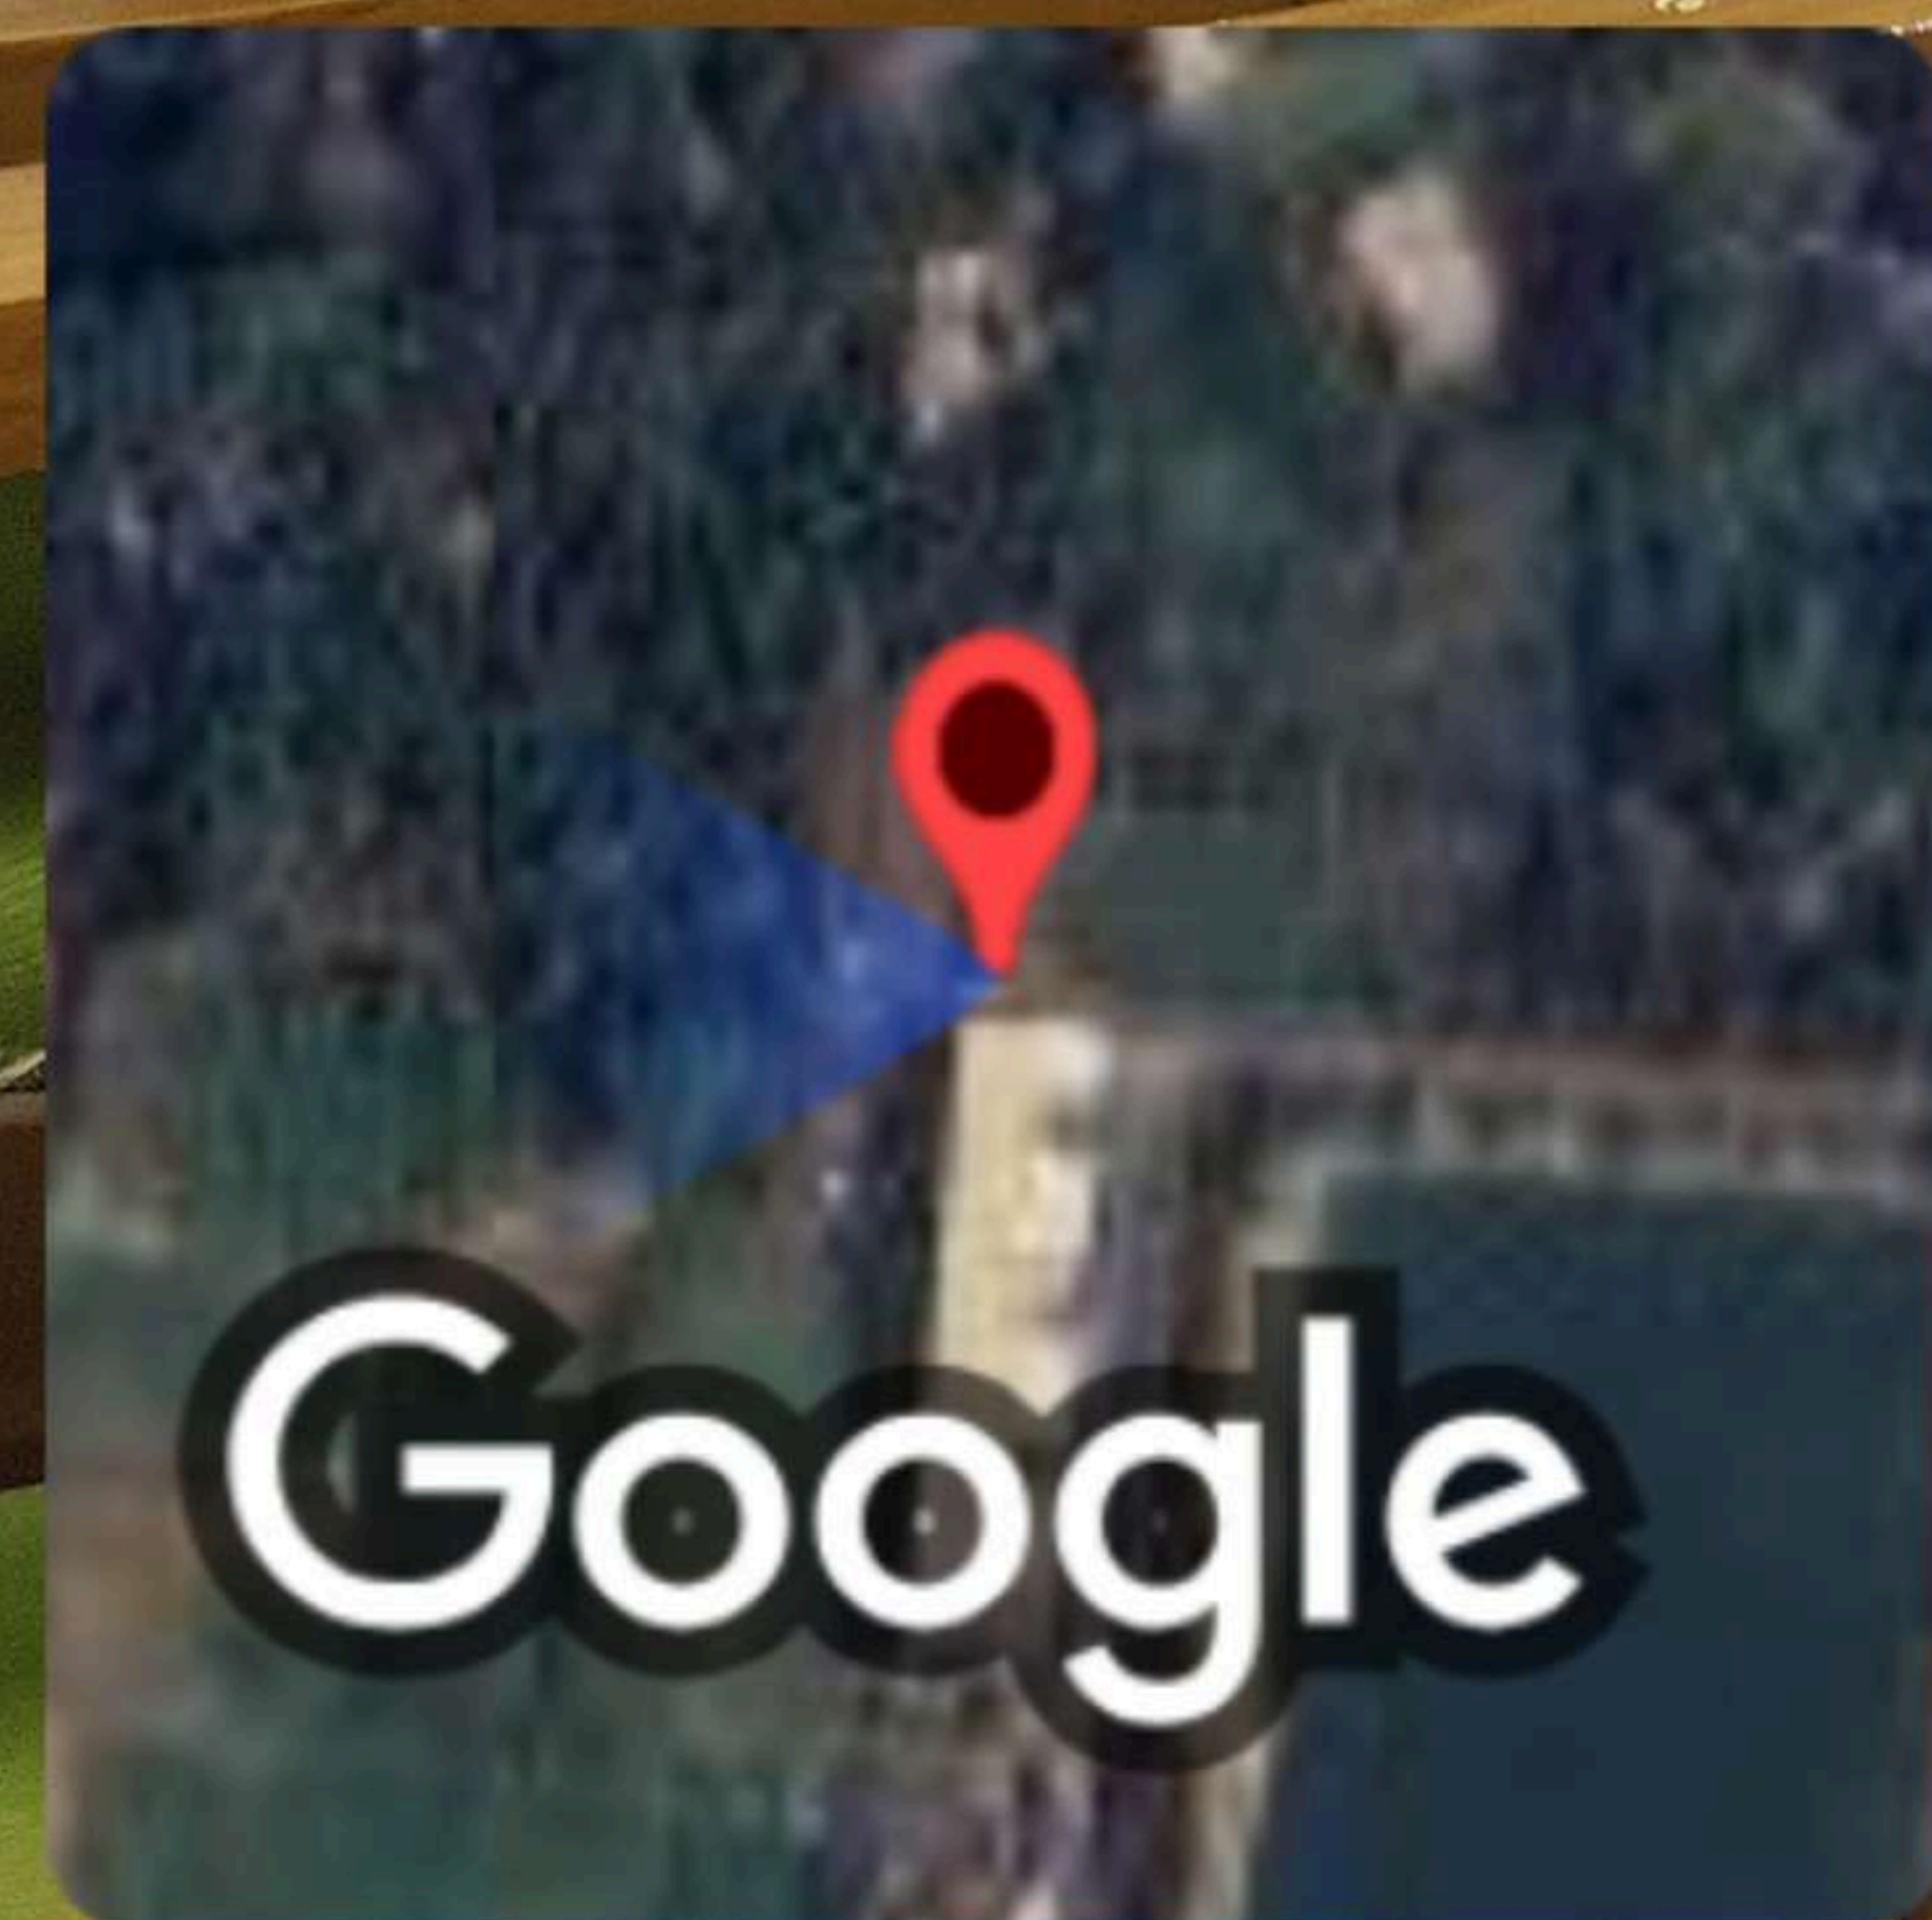

The Alumni Meet 2026 was therefore not merely a reunion, but a meaningful celebration of the department's journey and its continuing bonds across generations. It brought together the past, present and future of the Department of Microbiology in an atmosphere of warmth, enthusiasm and shared pride.

The programme concluded on a joyful and memorable note, leaving the participants with cherished memories and reinforcing the spirit of fellowship, belonging and togetherness that lies at the heart of the departmental community.

The Department wishes to hold this Alumni meet every year so that the values of friendship, cooperation and helpful attitudes are nurtured.
